

How top stars did at camp

HERE IS HOW Van Coleman of Cedar Rapids, Ia., publisher of National Recruiters Cage Letter, evaluated the Class of 85's performances during summer competition:

1. Ben Wilson, Simeon, AFBE camp. "Must be rated first right now because he can play more than one position. At 6-8, he can even play guard. Good perimeter shot."

1A. Lowell Hamilton, Prov.-St. Mel, AFBE, Las Vegas camps. "If he's not No. 1, he's very, very close. He's a power forward, essentially. Awesome athlete, and no doubt one of the best around. But he has not shown a shot from 12 feet out."

3. Ed Horton, Springfield Lanphier, 5-Star camp. "One of three top players in a strong 5-Star camp in Pittsburgh along with Dan Ferry of Hyattsville, Md., and Jeff Lebo of Carlisle, Pa., who are two of best in nation. He's right there with Hamilton and Wilson."

4A. Gary Leonard, Belleville East, AFBE camp, Prairie State Games. "In a group of three just below the top three."

4B. Melvin McCants, Mt. Carmel, AFBE camp. "Looked good in camp."

4C. Jerry Jones, Hillcrest, AFBE camp. "A strong player, very physical."

7. Sean Connor, Ziegler-Royalton, AFBE, 5-Star camps. "If those other players are the very best in the state, Connor is definitely the next best after that. Great student, too."

8. Todd Wolfe, Prospect, AFBE camp, Prairie State Games. "Looked good at AFBE."

9. Gerald Hayward, Hyde Park, AFBE camp. "Very impressive as one-on-one player."

Other players who distinguished themselves in summer competition: Tracy Diddy, King; David Knight, Simeon; John Ousley, Manley; Joe Young, Marshall; Tony Manuel, Crane.

Players display their talents before the critical eyes of two college coaches at the prestigious

B/C Camp in Rensselaer, Ind., where reputations can be established or destroyed.

Tribune photo by Charles Cheney